RATIONALE AND ETHOS

High-quality, evidence-based and age-appropriate teaching of Relationships, Relationships and Sex and Health Education can help prepare pupils for the opportunities, responsibilities and experiences of adult life, both in the real world and online. The aim of Relationships, Relationships and Sex Education and Health Education is to give children and young people the skills, knowledge and understanding that they will need in order to make responsible decisions about their life, to learn to respect themselves and others, and to move with confidence from childhood into adolescence and adulthood. It is centrally concerned with supporting children and young people through their physical, emotional and moral development, helping to ensure they develop resilience, know how and when to ask for help, and know where to access support.

At Dover College, we see RSE as just one part of a lifelong process of learning about relationships, emotions, sex, sexuality and sexual health. It involves acquiring information, developing skills and forming positive beliefs, values and attitudes. Our overarching aim in RSE is to give pupils the information they need to help them develop healthy, nurturing relationships of all kinds, not just intimate relationships. Our teaching of RSE should enable them to know what a healthy relationship looks like and what makes a good friend, a good colleague and a successful marriage or other type of committed relationship. We aim to teach what is acceptable and unacceptable behaviour in relationships, to help students understand the positive effects that good relationships have on their mental wellbeing, identify when relationships are not right and understand how such situations can be managed.

TEACHING, CURRICULUM AND DELIVERY

The topics covered within the RSE curriculum are wide-ranging and at times there may be understandable and legitimate areas of contention. This policy is designed to outline the purpose and content of RSE, whilst ensuring that all of the compulsory subject content is age and developmentally appropriate. We aim to teach RSE sensitively and inclusively, with respect to the backgrounds and beliefs of pupils and parents while always with the aim of providing pupils with the knowledge they need of the law and the legal implications of their actions. All topics will be delivered in a non-judgemental, factual way and allow scope for students to ask questions in a safe environment. The curriculum addresses issues in a timely way in line with current evidence on children's physical, emotional and sexual development. This is informed by pupils' voice and in response to issues as they arise in the school and the wider community.

RSE at Dover College is underpinned by a wider, deliberate cultivation and practice of resilience and character in the individual. Through our PSHE programme we aim to foster the personal, moral, spiritual, social and cultural development of our students, as well as helping to enhance their ability to cope with life and its modern demands. We aim to encourage our students to become kinder, more confident, more thoughtful and more responsible citizens in the communities in which they live and work.

RESPONSIBILITIES

RSE will be delivered primarily by form tutors and selected staff members such as school nurses with professional experience in delivering this content. All resources are prepared by the PSHE Coordinator's and made available to the form tutors in advance. A significant amount of RSE content is taught by the Science department as part of the science curriculum and the School may also invite in appropriate experts to teach specific topics within the RSE programme. We recognise that parents and/or carers play a key role in teaching their children about relationships and sex. The school aims to work with partners and carers to support them in preparing their children for happy and fulfilled relationships in adult life.

Schools are required to comply with relevant requirements of the Equality Act 2010 and must not unlawfully discriminate against pupils because of their age, sex, race, disability, religion or belief, gender reassignment, pregnancy or maternity, marriage or civil partnership, or sexual orientation (collectively known as the protected characteristics). Schools must also make reasonable adjustments to alleviate disadvantage and be mindful of the SEND Code of Practice when planning for the provision of RSE and other subjects.

We will consider whether it may be appropriate or necessary to put in place additional support for pupils with particular protected characteristics. We will take positive action to build a culture where sexism, misogyny, homophobia and gender stereotypes will not be tolerated, and any occurrences are identified and tackled.

The School will refer to the SEND code of practice, where appropriate, and will also be aware that some students are more vulnerable to exploitation, bullying and other issues due to the nature of their SEND. RSE can be particularly important for those with social, emotional and mental health needs or learning disabilities, and such factors will be taken into consideration when designing and teaching the RSE curriculum.

SAFE AND EFFECTIVE PRACTICE

We will ensure a safe learning environment by requiring that certain 'ground rules' are established for each session and clearly understood by all those that take part. These may vary depending on the age of the students but are likely to include:

- Guidance on how potentially sensitive questions can be asked
- A general expectation of privacy and the importance of being able to talk frankly in the session without fear of discussions being repeated outside the room without due cause
- How staff will respond if anyone shares anything they consider to be concerning, particularly any issues of a safeguarding nature (they must not promise confidentiality)
- The promotion of 'distancing techniques' that encourage pupils not to personalise their questions or discussions.

Staff should bring any non-urgent issues for discussion to the pupil's Houseparent or form teacher. Any urgent and/or safeguarding issues must be reported immediately to the Designated Safeguarding Lead or one of the Deputy Designated Safeguarding Leads in line with the school's Safeguarding and Child Protection Policy.

SAFEGUARDING

Effective delivery of RSE necessarily allows students an open forum to discuss potentially sensitive issues, which may in turn lead to disclosure of a child protection issue. All Staff are trained in child protection and, if they receive a disclosure or have any concerns about a student in their class, should follow the School's normal safeguarding procedures as set out in the Safeguarding and Child Protection Policy.

Where visiting speakers are invited to support delivery of certain aspects of the RSE curriculum, they will be subject to the School's usual procedures for vetting visiting speakers. In addition, the School's PSHE Coordinators will brief them in advance regarding the School's safeguarding procedures and their RSE sessions will be attended by the PSHE Co-ordinator and/or relevant form tutors and/or Houseparents.

MONITORING, REPORTING AND EVALUATION

Quality Assurance

The quality of RSE education at Dover College is monitored through regular pupil voice and learning walks by Julie Green (the PSHE Co-ordinator) in the Senior School and Kieron Ives (the PSHE co-ordinator) in the Prep School. Pupils and staff are involved in evaluation of the teaching programme as part of the annual review of PSHE.

Parents and Carers

This policy and the curriculum plan are made available to parents on the school website and a paper copy is available on request. Should parents or carers wish to discuss any aspect of the PSHE or RSE curriculum, they should contact the PSHE Co-ordinator for the Senior School, Julie Green (greenj@dovercollege.org.uk) or Kieron Ives (ivesk@dovercollege.org.uk) for the Prep School.

Right to Withdraw

Parents have the right to request that their child be withdrawn from some or all of the sex education delivered as part of the statutory RSE. Parents must state their request in writing to the Head. Parents will then be invited into School to discuss the request to ensure that their wishes are fully understood. We will clarify the nature and purpose of the curriculum alongside the benefits of receiving this important education and any detrimental effects that withdrawal might have on their child, e.g. the emotional and social effects of being excluded as well as the likelihood of the child hearing his/her peers' version of what was learned in the class rather than what was delivered by the teacher. Unless there are exceptional circumstances, School will respect the parents' request to withdraw their child.

There is no right to withdraw from relationship education.

Pupils who are withdrawn will receive purposeful education during the period of withdrawal. Pupils Three terms before the student turns 16 years old, he/she is legally able to make his/her own decision as to whether he/she receives sex education. The College will make arrangements to provide the student with sex education during one of those terms and a parental request of withdrawal will not be granted.

All pupils are informed of PSHE and RSE topics in advance of the lesson and are invited to talk to their form teacher or Houseparent individually should they feel uncomfortable about being in the session itself.

STAFF

All staff have the right to additional support and guidance from the PSHE Co-ordinator. Should a staff member not feel comfortable about delivering a certain topic, they are encouraged to discuss this with the headteacher.

RSE POLICY AND CURRICULUM DEVELOPMENT REVIEW

The RSE policy and curriculum has been produced in line with statutory guidance from the Department for Education.
